A PEPPER FOR EVERY OPERATOR

With three quality tiers and a variety of packaging options, we can pick the perfect pepper to fit any operational need. Innovative packaging, including our econopouch and speed-serve formats, are easy to handle and store.

COUNT ON THE PEPPER-SOURCING EXPERTS FOR QUALITY AND CONSISTENCY

With more than seventy years in the pepper business, we are an authority on quality peppers. We have a large network of growers across the world, enabling us to source fresh peppers all year long.

SWEET BELL PEPPERS

The most common variety of sweet peppers, they can be eaten raw or cooked and are commonly used in relishes, salads, stir-fry and other savory dishes.

JALAPEÑO PEPPERS

One of the most popular peppers, these are known for adding zesty flavor to Southwestern dishes. They can be served hot or cold, or add them to burgers or sauces for an extra kick.

PEPPERONCINI

Typically pickled, these peppers add complex flavor—ranging from mild and sweet to spicy—to deli sandwiches, salads, pizza and vegetable trays. We buy only the highest-quality Greek pepperoncini.

CHERRY PEPPERS

True to their name, these peppers resemble large cherries. They're commonly pickled and served on a vegetable tray or sliced and added to sandwiches and salads.

BANANA PEPPERS

Ranging from sweet and mild to hot and spicy, banana peppers are usually served on relish platters, on sandwiches or in salads, or they're cooked in savory dishes.
